Lorelei Boschman

Math Munch is a tremendous resource that combines games, puzzles and tools, math art and videos, all stemming from the creators' love of mathematics and their desire to share this with others.

The math games are engaging and relate to many math levels. They present many different branches of mathematics to fit in all curricular areas.

The math art tools are fabulous and will captivate your students.

Contributors' backgrounds and stories are highlighted—this helps to make the person and the math real. Submissions are encouraged!

Watch their TEDx Talk to hear about Math Munch and the creators' goals.
